Q: I really enjoy the actress Robin Riker who portrays Sharon Posner in Pod. TV's "Sort A Life." Could you please tell me everything there is to know about this wonderfully talented up-and-coming actress? Roger J.

A: Well, She's Live, going at 8:30 p.m. (ET), as Pod.'s record Sunday night line-up and she has series "Brothers," for which she received two Ace Award nominations, now in production. Robin is in the eventful situation of having two television series running at once!

Robin was born in New York City to theatrical parents Her father William Rush Riker is an actor and her mother Ruth Livingston is a costume designer. She was born on two birthdays and in the middle child. When she was two, the family moved to Harrisburg, Pa., to work with the Harrisburg Theatre. It was there that Robin made her TV debut on her father's television program "Captain Ky's Showboat." The family purchased a farm just outside Harrisburg. Robin fondly remembers her three years in this wonderful paradise from, wanted to own and operate their own theatre, so they moved to work and set up the Aspen Playhouse. It's really a shame that Robin remembers her hometown theatre so vaguely, as she was calling Robin's parents again. They decided they would go back to Harrisburg and open a theatre. So they moved to work and set up "Going to school there was a great time for Robin remembers her hometown theatre so vaguely, as she was calling Robin's parents again. They decided they would go back to Harrisburg and open a theatre. So they moved to work and set up where you could stay for the cast of the play."

The directors of Robin's parents ended the Riviera stay in Aspen. Robin said her audience moved to Buckley and the Pod. Mint Theatre in Washington. Mostly's degree. Robin performed with the Colorado Shakespeare Festival for several seasons, receiving extensive classical training and beginning a lifelong love for language and the classics. She also learned the realities of the theatre: "I'd been on the stage from the time I was seven years old, so I learned about show business and rejection at a very early age."

Today, Robin loves to read, travel, entertain and maintains a family tradition of sharp shooting Brushes, which goes back four generations. She recently won first place in the Charlton, Heaton Trap & Pistol Shooting Competition. She's a good athletic player softball a little tennis just for fun. Robin says her motto: "When I have a workplace to go."

Robin is married to motion picture and television writer William Halsey, whose credits include, "The Young Riders" and "Murder She Wrote."

Q: Is Jim Byrne, who plays Lifeguard on "Wiseguy," an American or a Canadian, and how did he lose his legs in real life? Derek T.

A: Byrne is a native of Ft. Lauie, Mountin. He attended Boston University where he studied drama and music. He moved to Toronto in Canada in 1969 and worked in various clubs as a singer and guitarist. An automobile accident in 1972 caused him to lose his legs. Although he's seen on the above using a wheel chair, Byrne gets around off screen on prosthetic limbs which he says give him freedom to move around.

MITSUBISHI MONTERO 4—DOOR 4X4

Mitsubishi Motor Corp.'s sales have skyrocketed since its early 1970s' U.S. market debut. At first, they sold exclusively as "imported" Dodges and Plymouths, then Mitsubishis built an independent network to supplement, not replace, their sales through Chrysler. For the initial three-quarters of 1990, sales were up 45 percent, with products such as the Montero LS 4X4 a surprising they aren't stronger yet.

Outside, the four door Montero is boxy in the traditional British off road fa-s which is in that it's very practical. Inside, the owl look is the bead The bank is eight inches high. How old is it?

SALT OF THE EARTH

Salt and the serving of it has been important since medieval times, when it represented piety purity and friendship. Fantasy shaped salt cellars have been made since the 15th century. Boats and shrips representing the sea were understandable forms of salt holders, and cupids, mermaids, and mermen heads animals, birds or horse drawn coaches were made by the 19th century. Silversmiths made salt holders that were decorative and impressive. Modern figural glass and porcelain salts can be found, but very few fantasy silver salt dishes are being made today.

YOUR HOROSCOPE
by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): There are some small difficulties or misunderstandings with others now but it's nothing to get terribly upset about. By Friday, if plans are changed financial judgment may not be at its best now. Little expenditures could mount up. Don't neglect an important date.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Mixed swings are likely now. You're not the easiest person to fathom now nor are you your most effective self to readings. A tendency to withdraw can make you oblivious to other persons needs Be more attentive and exercise considerations.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You won't have the greatest time in your life but you won't have a bad time. Still, minor difficulties could arise with friends when socializing. Put aside business concerns for now. It is your personal ones with those matters that shows you not quite there in relationships.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) The world is not run according to your preparation, as you find out now. You'll run into situations that get slightly against your grain. Exercise some caution now in financial dealings, as you could run into some shrewd types now. What to do with your money is a question for another day.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Try to avoid arguments with those close to you or you'll find yourself with someone in your aisle who's a bit too communicative and not much fun to be with. After the 15th interruption, you may well throw your hands up in the air and abandon a work project for now.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You'd be at a distinct disadvantage if you mixed business and pleasure now. You may not be sure of where you stand with a member of the opposite sex. Try to avoid a dispute with a family members over a possible purchase.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Though you know where you stand, the problem is that others may change their mind more than once. Continue with research about a career project. It could be a period of financial ups and downs. Others may run off along with your plans regarding expenditures though career interests are generally favored.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Some compromise is necessary in order to get along with those you love. Be further research into a business venture There's no need to feel rushed. A work problem can be solved if you'll face it. Instead of complaining take action to put things right.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) With the help of your muse you'll find it solutions to a problem with a child. Some social plans may be changed now. Well come news comes from afar. Though you're on the right track with your career it may be difficult to convince a family member of your position.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19): Creative activity is favored but it is not the best time to work the constraint of others. Partners will enjoy a new time spent together Don't begrudge the money you may have to spend on a household repair. Some problems you just can't let go on and on.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18): Now's the time to talk about problems before the wedge between you grows any deeper. Be willing to meet others halfway for peace of mind today. Some progress will be made on a work project but you may have to turn your attention to something else before you're done.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20): Relations with friends are not altogether smooth now. Either you're kept waiting, or someone cancels at the last minute Still, some good times are indicated Though a career problem is successfully dealt with, it may take more time before the home picture is exactly as you wish it to be.

DEAR DIANE
by Diane Van Arsdale

DEAR DIANE

I have a rather strange problem that I hope you can help me with. I'm 17 years old, and I have been dating a boy who is 17. For the past few months we have been neighbors and friends. We went out one more and friends. At the age of 14, we began to date. At the age of 14, we began getting lonely and we started getting involved. We never had sex at all. We just did the normal things that age, just the movies, a bike messages, etc. Now things have changed a lot. We're serious in the sense that we've been going together for a year now, and we both truly love each other, and plan someday to get married. Our problem is that our parents are both divorced, and parents are both divorced, and parents have also become involved in a relationship together. They have even told us that they plan to get married and that will make my boyfriend and me stepbrother and stepsister. Our parents said we must stop seeing one another after all this time, as we'll soon be related. My boyfriend and I are in no way going to stop seeing each other, or stop loving each other. We didn't want to marry each other. We didn't want to marry quite this young, but our parents are hearing us we're related. Once they're married, we're related, so we must get married before they happens. We plan on eloping. We've searched for other solutions, but nothing seems to work.

IN LOVE

DEAR IN LOVE

Your parents are way off base, to say the least. You will be stepbrother and stepsister. However, you are not related by blood, so there are no obstacles in the way of a relationship between you two. Your parents are already 17 and have been seeing each other for a while, they should be allowed to continue to do so. I suggest you show this letter to your parents and let them know what I've said. This is not "The Brady Bunch," where the children were very young and the two families merged a new families that was television and this is real life. To be honest, it sounds to me as if your parents are somehow hesitating about a family life that just can't be at this point in all your lives.
